Summary of reasons for decision:

'Dry Ice Gun' was submitted for classification on behalf of the Commissioner of Police, under s13(1)(ab) of the Films, Videos, and Publications Classification Act 1993. The unrestricted availability of this publication is likely to be injurious to the public good. The document outlines how to make and use devices that would be capable of causing serious harm to others, although to cause serious harm to others does not appear to be the author's intent. While the document does not appear to have criminal intent, there is serious risk of injury from both making the devices described, and if they were to be used against other people. Given that young people are still developing their cognitive abilities, including risk-assessment, it is not unreasonable to consider them as having a higher risk of causing serious harm to themselves or others should this document be available to them. For these reasons, 'Dry Ice Gun' is restricted to those aged 18 and over. This is a limit on the right to freedom of expression but it is reasonable and justified in order to prevent injury to the public good.
